

Department of Political Science
Nayagram Pandit Raghunath Murmu Government College
P.O.: Baligeria, P.S.: Nayagram, Dist.: Jhargram,
West Bengal – 721125

PROGRAMME OUTCOME AND COURSE OUTCOME

The subject Political Science is a dynamic social science dealing with the political activities of man. The subject not only studies state, government, administration, but also applies scientific method and empirical analysis to analyze political matters. This subject is concerned to our day to day lives. It seeks to analyze some critical issues that affect our daily lives, including civil rights, diplomacy, globalization and terrorism, etc. It is a subject of systematic study of government and politics. Not only that, the subject also deals with governance, power relation, political behaviour, etc. and tries to describe how these are shaped by the ideas of political actors. Therefore, a degree in political science at the undergraduate level not only helps students to enhance their knowledge about political matters, state affairs, and governmental issues, but also prepares them to take part in the political life and civil matters. So, after the completion of graduation, the student will be able to –

Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs)
Political Science (Hons.)

Political Science Honours at the undergraduate level covers Political Theory, Political ideologies, constitutions, functions of different organs of Government, Public Administration, International Relations, International organizations and other socio-economic issues. So after successful completion of six semester degree program in Political Science (Honours), student will be able to –

- PSO1: Understand the basic concept of political science discipline along with several political thinkers of Western Political Thought and Indian Political Thought. Students will gain analytical abilities, skill of debate and presentation of own thoughts and arguments.
- PSO2: Students will be equipped with a vast knowledge on the formation and functions of governments of different countries specifically UK, USA, China, Brazil, France etc. and that will help them to be sincere and good citizens.
- PSO3: Acquaint with the Indian Government and Politics. By taking part in the survey analysis, students will be acquainting with the problems and prospects of rural government of India. They will be able to solve problems and also think methodically, independently and draw a logical conclusion.

- PSO4: An understanding of major concepts in all branches and related subjects of Political Science will be acquired by the students and that will help them to contribute in different administrative and social service.
- PSO5: Besides developmental and welfare activities of the government, there are so many non-governmental organizations active in the society. With the knowledge of this programme, students will be able to form and take part in these non-governmental organizations.
- PSO6: Understand the basic concepts, important issues, organizations and dynamics of International Relations. Understand the issues concerning human rights and challenges.
- PSO7: As the students will be engaged in the Project Work, the leadership quality, planning and planning management capacity, attitude of group activity, evaluation of advancement and completion of the project and other qualities will be nurtured and enriched.
- PSO8: As outcome of this program, sincere, conscious and active students will enrich the Human Resource of our Country.
- PSO9: Understand the basic concept of political science discipline along with several political thinkers of Western Political Thought and Indian Political Thought. Students will gain analytical abilities, skill of debate and presentation of own thoughts and arguments.

Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs)

Political Science (General)

After successful completion of six semester degree program in Political Science (General), students will be able to –

- PSO1: Students will gain Analytical abilities, skill of debate and presentation of own thoughts and arguments.
- PSO2: They will be equipped with a vast knowledge on the formation and functions of governments of different countries and that will help them to be sincere and good citizens.
- PSO3: By taking part in the survey analysis, they will be aware of function of different levels of government, especially Local Self-Government.
- PSO4: They will be able to solve problems and also think methodically, independently and draw a logical conclusion.
- PSO5: An understanding of major concepts in all branches and related subjects of Political Science will be acquired by the students and that will help them to contribute in different administrative and social service.

PSO6: Besides developmental and welfare activities of the government, there are so many non-governmental organizations active in the society. With the knowledge of this programme, students will be able to form and take part in these non-governmental organizations.

Course Outcomes (COs)

Political Science (Honours)

Semester	I
Title of Course	Understanding Political Theory
Paper Code	C1
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course the students will attain thorough knowledge about Political Theory, different approaches to the study of politics.

This course CC1 provides the students with –

- CO1: Introducing politics and ‘Political’, and different approaches to the study of Political Theory. Normative, Historical and Empirical
- CO2: Traditions of Political Theory. Liberal, Marxist, Anarchists and Conservative.
- CO3: Critical and contemporary Perspectives in Political Theory. Feminist and Postmodern.
- CO4: The Grammar of Democracy. its history and different kinds e.g. Procedural, Deliberative etc.
- CO6: Meaning and types of Participation and Representation
- CO5: Limitations of Democracy will also be taught to the students

Semester	I
Title of Course	Constitutional Government and Democracy in India
Paper Code	C2
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course the students will learn about the philosophy of the Indian Constitution, the structure and functions of the three basic organs of the Indian Government - the Executive, President and Prime Minister, the Legislature, the Parliament and the Judiciary, the Supreme Court. They also know about federalism and the decentralization of power, from centre to state and local administration.

This course CC2 provides the students with.

- CO1: The Philosophical basis of the Indian Constitution
- CO2: Fundamental Rights and Duties of the Indian Citizens
- CO3: The structure and functions of the Executive, the Legislature and the Judiciary of India
- CO4: Nature of Indian Federalism, decentralization of Power
- CO5: Relation between the Central Government and the State Governments
- CO6: Structure and functions of the Local Governments (Urban and Rural)

Semester	II
Title of Course	Political Theory – Concepts and Debates
Paper Code	C3
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will be able to attain the knowledge of the core concepts of Political theory like Freedom, Equality, Justice and Rights.

This course CC3 provides the students with.

- CO1: The importance of Freedom, Negative and Positive Freedom
- CO2: Freedom as emancipation and development
- CO3: The Right to Freedom of belief, expression and dissent
- CO4: The idea of Equality, equality and opportunity
- CO5: Different kinds of Equality
- CO6: Significance of Equality in the modern society
- CO7: Inequality and its background
- CO8: Indispensability of Justice, procedural, distributive and global justice
- CO9: The universality of Rights
- CO10: Natural and Moral Rights
- CO11: Three Generations of Rights
- CO12: Rights and Obligation
- CO13: Rights of the Girl Child
- CO14: Major debates. political obligation and disobedience, cultural relativism and universality of rights, diversity and multiculturalism

Semester	II
Title of Course	Political Process in India
Paper Code	C4
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain a complete knowledge about features of political parties, determinants of voting behaviour, several issues of politics like caste, caste, religion and the changing nature of the state etc.

This course CC4 provides the students with.

- CO1: Political Party. definition, features and types of political parties
- CO2: Class, Caste, Gender and religion as determinants of voting behaviour
- CO3: Regional Aspiration and crisis of Secessionism
- CO4: Interactions between Religion and Politics
- CO5: Meaning of Secularism and its significance
- CO9: Concept of Communalism and majority and minority communalism
- CO7: Affirmative Active Politics and the role of women, Caste and Class
- CO8: The changing nature of Indian State since independence
- CO6: Concepts of development and welfare and Coercive dimensions

Semester	III
Title of Course	Introduction of Comparative Government and Politics
Paper Code	C5
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course the students will attain knowledge about the Government and Politics of Great Britain, Brazil, Nigeria and China.

This course CC5 provides the students with.

- CO1: Nature and scope of Comparative Politics
- CO2: Discussion on Eurocentrism and Going beyond Eurocentrism
- CO3: Different historical context of modern governments
- CO4: Meaning of Capitalism, its development and globalization
- CO5: Meaning of Socialism and its growth and development
- CO6: Meaning of Colonialism and decolonization, forms of colonialism

CO7: Anti-colonialism struggles and process of decolonization

CO8: Comparative study of constitutional development and political economy of United Kingdom, Brazil, Nigeria and China

Semester	III
Title of Course	Perspectives on Public Administration
Paper Code	C6
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain a thorough knowledge of Public Administration in general and contemporary public policies in particular.

This course CC6 provides the students with.

CO1: Meaning, Dimensions and Significance of Public Administration

CO2: Concept of Private and Public Administration and differences between them

CO3: Evolution of Public Administration

CO4: Classical Theories of Public Administration, i) Scientific Management, ii) Administrative Management, iii) Max Weber's Theory of Bureaucracy

CO5: Concept of Neo-classical Theories of Public Administration, i) Human Relation Theory, ii) Rational decision –making

CO6: Contemporary theories of Public Administration and the Ecological Approach and the idea of Innovation and Entrepreneurship

CC7: Concept of Public Policy and its relevance, its formulation, implementation and evaluation

CC8: Major Approaches in Public Administration, discussion on i) New Public Administration, ii) New Public Management, iii) New Public Service Approach, iv) Good Governance, v) Feminist Perspectives

Semester	III
Title of Course	Perspectives of International Relations and World History
Paper Code	C7
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course the students will acquire knowledge about the perspectives of International Relations and World History.

This course CC7 provides the students with.

CO1: Concept, definition and analytical discussion of International Relations

CO2: History of International Relations and emergence of State system

- CO3: Pre-Westphalia, Westphalia and post Westphalia era, features and significance
- CO4: Theoretical Perspective of International Relations, Classical Realism and Neo-Realism, Liberalism and Neo-liberalism, Marxist and Feminist approaches, Eurocentrism and perspective from Global South
- CO5: An overview of the history of International Relations in the Twentieth Century,
- CO6: Discussion on the major events of the twentieth century like World War I, Bolshevik Revolution, Fascism and Nazism, World War II, Cold War and its different phases, Emergence of Third World, Collapse of USSR, Emergence of other centres of power.

Semester	III
Title of Course	Public Opinion and Survey Research
Paper Code	SEC1
Credits	02
Hours	02 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will attain knowledge about the concepts, characteristics and importance of public opinion and how it is formed and act in a democratic political system.

This course SEC1 provides the students with.

- CO1: Definition of Public Opinion and its characteristics and role in a democratic political system
- CO2: Methods of Measuring Public Opinion with Survey, Sampling and its different types, and representation.
- CO3: Different methods of Survey Research, Interviewing and its techniques, questionnaire and its methods
- CO4: Concept and techniques of Quantitative Data Analysis
- CO5: Interpreting Polls and the methods and limitations of interpreting polls.

Semester	IV
Title of Course	Process and Institutions in Comparative Perspective
Paper Code	C8
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will attain knowledge on different approaches and institutions of comparative politics and the origin, functions and role of this institutions.

This course CC8 provides the students with.

- CO1: Approaches to the study of Comparative Politics, Political Culture and New Institutionalism
- CO2: Electoral System, definition and procedures, different types of election system, First Past the Post, Proportional and Mixed Representation
- CO3: Party System- historical contexts and emergence and types of party system
- CO4: Historical evolution of Nation State, Debates on State and Nation
- CO5: Concept of Democratization, Democratization in the pos-colonial, post-authoritarian and post-colonial countries
- CO6: Federalism and confederation, debates on territorial division of power

Semester	IV
Title of Course	Public Policy and Administration in India
Paper Code	C9
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course students will acquire knowledge about public policy and administration in India.

This course CC9 provides the students with.

- CO1: Definition, characteristics and different models of public policy and administration.
- CO2: Decentralization and its implications through the formation of local self-governments.
- CO3: Budget- the concept, various approaches and significance of Budget
- CO4: Public service and its redressal methods like RTI, Lokpal, E-governance
- CO5: Welfare activities of Indian Government through education, health, food and Employment.

Semester	IV
Title of Course	Global Politics
Paper Code	C10
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this course students will attain knowledge about a complete concept of global politics, international organisations and their activities.

This course CC10 provides the students with.

- CO1: The concept of globalization, ongoing debates on sovereignty and territoriality, significance of global economy, role of the World Bank, World Trade Organizations and Transnational Corporations and cultural and technological dimensions.
- CO2: Ecological problems and their remedies, climate change and its impact,
- CO3: Nuclear proliferation, international terrorism, migration etc.
- CO4: Interrelation and interdependence among the countries in the age of Globalization

Semester	IV
Title of Course	Legislative Practices and Procedures
Paper Code	SEC2
Credits	02
Hours	02 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will aware of the legislative procedure and practices in India. Power and functions of the people's representatives and the procedure of the legislative bodies are to be taught in this paper. Students will also attain knowledge about the Bill and Budget system in India.

This course SEC2 provides the students with.

- CO1: Power and functions of the People's Representatives in the Parliament
- CO2: Power and functions of the People's Representatives in the State Legislative Assembly
- CO3: Power and functions of the People's Representatives in the Panchyati Raj
- CO4: Institutions and Municipal Bodies
- CO5: Formation and functions of different Legislative Committees

Semester	V
Title of Course	Classical Political Philosophy
Paper Code	C11
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course students' aptitude of interpretation and expression will be enriched. Students will read the classical texts of Plato, Aristotle, Machiavelli, Hobbes and Locke and learn to interpret their thoughts.

This course CC11 provides the students with.

- CO1: Interpretation of Texts
- CO2: Works of Plato and Aristotle and unique method of their interpretation
- CO3: Machiavelli's unique interpretation of politics
- CO4: Possessive Individualism - Hobbes and Locke and their explanation about the origin of the state.

Semester	V
Title of Course	Indian Political Thought I
Paper Code	C12
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this course students will be familiar with the treasure of Indian Political thought, from ancient to medieval period.

This course CC12 provides the students with.

- CO1: Tradition of pre-colonial Indian Political Thought Brahmanic and Shramanic,
- CO2: Thoughts and Islamic and syncretic thoughts
- CO3: Ved Vyasa (Shantiparba). Rajdharma
- CO4: Manu. Social Laws
- CO5: Katilya. Theory of State
- CO6: Aggansuta (DighaNikaya). Theory of kingship CO6.Barani . Ideal Polity
- CO7: Abul Fazal's concept of Monarchy
- CO8: Kabir. Syncretism

Semester	V
Title of Course	India's Foreign Policy in Globalizing World
Paper Code	DSE1
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain a complete knowledge on the evolution, objective and strategies of India's foreign policy since independence till date.

This course DSE1 provides the students with.

- CO1: India's Foreign Policy. From a Postcolonial State to the present world scenario
- CO2: India and her Bi-lateral Relations with the USA and USSR/ Russia
- CO3: India's Engagement with her neighbour country China and causes behind the ups and downs of the relation
- CO4: An understanding of the relation between India and the South Asian countries
- CO5: An Overview of India's Negotiating Style and Strategies on the Trade, Environment and Security Regimes

Semester	V
Title of Course	United Nations and Global Conflicts
Paper Code	DSE2
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain knowledge about United Nations, the leading international organization. Almost all independent countries are the members of it. Students will know the formation, objectives and functions of different organs of it and its role in solving the global conflicts.

This course DSE2 provides the students with.

- CO1: The formation, objectives and functions of different organs of UNO
- CO2: Major Global Conflicts since the Second World War
- CO3: Assessment of the activities of the UNO
- CO4: Suggestions and recommendations for the reformation of the UNO

Semester	VI
Title of Course	Modern Political Philosophy
Paper Code	C13
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of this course students will be able to get a complete idea of modernity and modern political philosophy. They will be introduced with the discourses around modernity.

This course CC13 provides the students with.

- CO1: The concept of Modernity and its discourses
- CO2: Rousseau's concept of General Will and Mary Wollstonecraft's views

CO3: John Stuart Mill's ideas on Liberty, suffrage, subjection of women

CO4: Karl Marx and Alexandra Kollontai views

Semester	VI
Title of Course	Indian Political Thought II
Paper Code	C14
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of the course students will attain a complete idea about the modern Indian Political thought

This course CC14 provides the students with.

CO1: Introduction to Modern Indian Political Thought

CO2: Liberal thoughts of Rammohon Roy

CO3: Pandita Ramabai and Gender issues

CO4: Vivekananda. Ideal Society and his views on social reorganization

CO5: Gandhi and his idea of swaraj

CO6: Ambedkar's views on justice

CO7: Tagore's Views of Nationalism

CO8: Iqbal on Community

CO9: Hindutva as propounded by Savarkar

CO10: Nehru on Secularism

CO11: Lohia's views on Socialism

Semester	VI
Title of Course	Citizenship in a Globalizing World
Paper Code	DSE3
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After successful completion of the course students will attain a complete idea about citizenship from a global perspective

This course DSE3 provides the students with.

CO1: Classical conceptions of citizenship

CO2: The Evolution of Citizenship and the Modern State

CO3: Citizenship and Diversity

CO4: Citizenship beyond the Nation-state. Globalization and global justice

CO5: The idea of cosmopolitan citizenship

Semester	VI
Title of Course	Human Rights in a Comparative Perspective
Paper Code	DSE4
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this course student will attain broader knowledge about Human Rights, its generations, its universal declaration and other issues and structural violence of India as well as some other countries.

This course DSE4 provides the students with.

CO1: Concept of Human Rights, its Generations, its Universal Declaration

CO2: Rights in National Constitutions. South Africa and India

CO3: Torture. USA and India

CO4: Surveillance and Censorship. China and India

CO5: Terrorism and Insecurity of Minorities. USA and India

CO6: Caste and Race. South Africa and India

CO7: Gender and Violence. India and Pakistan

CO8: Adivasis/Aboriginals and the Land Question. Australia and India

Course Outcome Political Science (GE)

Semester	I
Title of Course	Nationalism in India
Paper Code	GE1
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain the knowledge of Nationalism in India and the different approaches to the study of Nationalism. They will be able to understand the contribution of the social and religious movements and the effects of communalism, especially the Two-Nation Theory in India.

This course GE1. provides the students with.

- CO1: Concept of Nationalism and approaches to the study of nationalism
- CO2: Major Social Movements in 19th century
- CO3: Different Phases of Nationalist Movements - Liberal, Gandh led movements, socialist alternatives
- CO4: Social Movements and issues of women, Caste, peasants and tribal
- CO5: Communalism in India and the Two-Nation Theory and negotiation over participation

Semester	II
Title of Course	Governance. Issues and Challenges
Paper Code	GE2
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will attain the knowledge of Government and governance, issues of development, issues of environmental governance, local governance and initiatives of good governance in India

This course GE2. provides the students with.

- CO1: Concept of Government and governance, role of the State in the era of globalization
- CO2: Changing dimensions of development and the concept of good governance
- CO3: The concept of Environmental governance and Green Governance
- CO4: The concept of Sustainable Development and human-environment interrelation
- CO5: Initiatives taken in India for good governance

Semester	III
Title of Course	Gandhi and the Contemporary World
Paper Code	GE3
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain the knowledge of Gandhian Thought and its relevance in the contemporary world. They will be familiar with the techniques of Gandhi to lead the freedom movement and also to reconstruct the Indian Society.

This course GE3. provides the students with.

- CO1: Gandhi's views on modern civilization

- CO2: Techniques of Gandhi to lead the freedom movement and their application in the society
- CO3: Gandhi's principles and their relevance in the contemporary social movements
- CO4: Gandhi's views on caste and untouchability and their relevance in present society
- CO5: Gandhi's legacy, especially on the issues of tolerance, women pacifist movement and in popular culture

Semester	IV
Title of Course	United Nation and Global Conflicts
Paper Code	GE4
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain knowledge about United Natio , the leading international organization. Almost all independent countries are the members of it. So, students should know the formation, objectives and functions of different organs of it and its role in solving the global conflicts.

This course GE4. provides the students with.

- CO1: The formation, objectives and functions of different organs of UNO
- CO2: Major Global Conflicts since the Second World War
- CO3: Assessment of the activities of the UNO
- CO4: Suggestions and recommendations for the reformation of the UNO
- CO5: UNO and its new role in the changing world scenario

Course Outcomes (COs)
Political Science (General)

Semester	I
Title of Course	Introduction to Political Theory
Paper Code	DSC 1A
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper Students will attain a complete knowledge on the theories and basic concepts of Political Science. Their skill of debating and arguing will be nurtured and enriched by following the part of Debates in Political Theory

This course DSC 1A provides the students with.

- CO1: Definition of Politics
- CO2: Different concepts of Political Theory
- CO3: Concept of Democracy
- CO4: Concept of Liberty
- CO5: Concept of Equality
- CO6: Concept of Justice
- CO7: Concept of Rights
- CO8: Concept of Gender
- CO9: Concept of Civil Society and State
- CO10: Issues of Debates Democracy and Economic Growth

Semester	II
Title of Course	Indian Government and Politics
Paper Code	DSC 1B
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper Students will attain a complete knowledge on the government and politics of India. The President, The Prime Minister, the Supreme Court and the Parliament as the chief institutions of the Government and different issues like Religion and Caste, functions of the Political Parties will be taught to the students.

This course DSC 1B provides the students with.

- CO1: Different Approaches to the study of Indian Politics
- CO2: Basic features of Indian Constitution and fundamental rights of the citizens
- CO3: Power and functions of the President and the Prime Minister
- CO4: Power structure in India, special emphasis on Caste, Class and Patriarchy
- CO5: Debates on Secularism and Communalism
- CO6: Party and Party System in India
- CO7: Social Movements in India, and special emphasis on Workers, Peasants, Environment and Women

Semester	III
Title of Course	Comparative Government and Politics
Paper Code	DSC 1C
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper Students will attain a complete knowledge on Comparative Government and Politics. They will learn to compare between different political system and governments.

This course DSC1C provides the students with.

- CO1: The Nature and scope of Comparative political analysis
- CO2: Comparison between different regimes – Authoritarian and Democratic
- CO3: Classifications of political system of UK, USA, Canada and China
- CO4: Different Electoral Systems
- CO5: Classifications of Party System

Semester	III
Title of Course	Legislative support
Paper Code	SEC1
Credits	02
Hours	02 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will aware of the Legislative Practices and Procedures. Power and functions of the people's representatives and the procedures of the Legislative Bodies are to be taught. They will also attain knowledge about the Bill and Budget

This course SEC1 provides the students with.

- CO1: Power and functions of the People's Representatives in the Parliament
- CO2: Power and functions of the People's Representatives in the State Legislative Assembly
- CO3: Power and functions of the People's Representatives in the Panchyati Raj
- CO4: Institutions and Municipal Bodies
- CO5: Formation and functions of different Legislative Committees
- CO6: Concept of Budget and overview of the Budget Process, role of the parliament,

Semester	IV
Title of Course	Introduction to International Relations
Paper Code	DSC 1D
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper Students will attain a complete knowledge on International Relations and major events in the world History since the World War II. They will learn about the evolution of the India's Foreign Policy.

This course DSC1D provides the students with.

- CO1: Approaches to the study of International Relations
- CO2: Major events in the world history during the Cold War and in the Post- Cold War era
- CO3: India's Foreign Policy, its determinants and evolution
- CO4: Non-alignment Movement and role of India
- CO4: India as an emerging power in Asia as well as in the World

Semester	IV
Title of Course	Public Opinion and Survey Research
Paper Code	SEC2
Credits	02
Hours	02 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will attain knowledge about the conception, characteristics and importance of public opinion and how it is formed and act in a democratic political system.

This course SEC2 provides the students with.

- CO1: Definition of Public Opinion and its characteristics and role in a democratic political system
- CO2: Methods of Measuring Public Opinion with Survey, Sampling and its different types.
- CO3: Different methods of Survey Research, Interviewing and its techniques, questionnaire and its methods
- CO4: Concept and techniques of Quantitative Data Analysis
- CO5: Interpreting Polls and the methods and limitations of interpreting polls

Semester	V
Title of Course	Themes in Comparative Political Theory
Paper Code	DSE1A
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will attain a complete knowledge on comparative political theory both of Western and Indian.

This course DSE1 provides the students with.

- CO1: Distinctive features of Indian and Western Political Thought
- CO2: Political Thought of Aristotle, special emphasis on Citizenship
- CO3: Concept of Rights of Locke

- CO4: Rousseau on Inequality
- CO5: Concepts of Liberty and Democracy of J.S.Mill
- CO6: Karl Marx and Bakunin on State
- CO7: Indian Political Thought, Kautilya and his concept of State
- CO8: Tilak and Gandhi's concept of Swaraj
- CO9: Social Justice and the concept of Ambedkar and Lihia
- CO10: Nehru and Joyprakash Narayan on Democracy
- CO11: Ramabai on patriarchy

Semester	V
Title of Course	Nationalism in India
Paper Code	GE1
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain the knowledge of Nationalism in India and the different approaches to the study of Nationalism. They will be able to understand the contribution of the social and religious movements and the effects of communalism, especially the Two-Nation Theory in India.

This course GE1. provides the students with.

- CO1: Concept of Nationalism and approaches to the study of nationalism
- CO2: Major Social Movements in 19th century
- CO3: Different Phases of Nationalist Movements - Liberal, Gandh led movements, socialist alternatives
- CO4: Social Movements and issues of women, Caste, peasants and tribal
- CO5: Communalism in India and the Two-Nation Theory and negotiation over participation

Semester	V
Title of Course	Democratic Awareness with Legal Literacy
Paper Code	SEC3
Credits	02
Hours	02 hours/week

After gone through this paper student will attain the knowledge on the Legal services and their practical applications in India.

This course SEC3 provides the students with.

- CO1: Democratic awareness and Legal Literacy
- CO2: Concept on the Legal system in India, Writ jurisdiction, role of Police Station
- CO3: Indian Constitution and Fundamental Rights of the citizens
- CO4: Laws relating to criminal jurisdiction
- CO5: What is FIR and how to file a FIR
- CO6: Principal of Natural Justice and Fair comment under Contempt laws
- CO7: Concepts of Personal Law, Cyber Law,

Semester	V
Title of Course	Administration and Public Policy
Paper Code	DSE1B
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain a complete knowledge on administration and public policy and its concepts and theories. They will be able to understand about development administration.

This course DSE1B provides the students with.

- CO1: Definition of Public Administration and its evolution as a discipline
- CO2: Approaches to the study of Public Administration
- CO3: Classical Theories of Public Administration, Scientific Management, Human
- CO4: Relation Theory
- CO5: Concept and theories of Public Policy, Process of formulation and implementation

Semester	VI
Title of Course	United Nation and Global Conflicts
Paper Code	GE2
Credits	06
Hours	06 hours/week

After gone through this paper students will attain knowledge about United Natio , the leading international organization. Almost all independent countries are the members of it. So, students should know the formation, objectives and functions of different organs of it and its role in solving the global conflicts.

This course GE4. provides the students with.

- CO1: The formation, objectives and functions of different organs of UNO

- CO2: Major Global Conflicts since the Second World War
- CO3: Assessment of the activities of the UNO
- CO4: Suggestions and recommendations for the reformation of the UNO
- CO5: UNO and its new role in the changing world scenario

Semester	VI
Title of Course	Conflict and Peace Building
Paper Code	SEC4
Credits	02
Hours	02 hours/week

After studying this paper students will attain knowledge about understanding conflict and conflict management at local, national and international levels.

This course SEC4 provides the students with.

- CO1: Understanding of conflicts of different kinds,
- CO2: Dimensions of conflicts, ideology, economy and socio-cultural issues
- CO3: Conflicts of different levels, local, sub-national and international
- CO4: Techniques of Conflicts responses, Negotiation, Trust Building, Mediation, Gandhian Methods
- CO5: Classroom Activities

.....